Despite recent economic turmoil, business today is far more global than ever. Many companies are doing business internationally or are considering international markets for their products or services. But conducting business internationally can be very different from business at home, with numerous risks for the unwary.

Our panelists, who have extensive experience as in-house counsel supporting international operations, will discuss some of the key legal differences between international and domestic business, will identify some special concerns related to international business operations and will suggest best practices and resources for dealing with these differences and concerns.

Please join us for this interesting and useful presentation.
