Traditionally, attorneys learn what they need to know about accounting over their careers. Acquiring this fundamental understanding on your own can take years. "Reading and Interpreting Financial Statements" will walk you through the fundamentals of accounting, illustrate how the financial statements relate to one another, and take you through a ratio analysis to highlight a variety of red flags and why they may be relevant to your matter. The three hour session will provide a hands-on approach through the use of a short case study.

Speakers:

Shauna Woody-Coussens, Managing Director, Grant Thornton, LLP
David Wharton, Senior Associate, Grant Thornton, LLP
