This seminar is for every lawyer who wants to avoid ever being used as an example in a legal malpractice risk management seminar. Using case studies of actual malpractice claims against lawyers, this seminar will explore processes and techniques that can be utilized by lawyers to avoid malpractice, and highlight circumstances that arise as cases progress, and lawyers' reactions to them, that, while not in and of itself malpractice, can result in adverse consequences to clients' cases. In addition, the risks of today's often uncharted digital technology will be examined.
