This seminar will address the numerous issues concerning treatment of executory contracts and leases in bankruptcy, such as assumption, assignment, rejection and ipso facto clauses. The discussion will include what are executory contracts, executory contracts that are exempted from bankruptcy treatment, and the special rules for real estate leases, personal property leases and IP licenses. One of the most overlooked issues--treatment of executory contracts in the period after bankruptcy is filed but before assumption or rejection--will be a special focus for this seminar.
